LPA Announces Speaker Series Breakfast Program during Pittcon 2017

White Post, VA – The Laboratory Products Association has announced the education program for the LPA Speaker Series Breakfast to be held during the Pittcon 2017 Conference in Chicago, Illinois.

The LPA Speaker Series Breakfast will be held on Tuesday, March 7 at 7:30am in the convention center and will feature Joshua Waldman, PhD, Research Associate for Cleveland Research Company. Waldman will present “Is Pharma Starting to Pass the Baton to Industrial Customers?”, which will provide a review of end market demand trends and an outlook on where things may be headed in 2017. The breakfast will be held in Room S103bc of the McCormick Place Convention Center and will be forty-minute presentation with a hot buffet breakfast.

The LPA can be found on the show floor in rooms SR7 (the LPA Networking Room) and SR8 (the LPA Meeting Room) and are exclusively available for LPA Members. Please visit www.lpanet.org/pittcon for more information on where to find the Laboratory Products Association and its members.

The Laboratory Products Association (LPA) was founded in 1918 as the Scientific Apparatus Makers Association. Its member companies are manufacturers and distributors of lab products and services such as glass and plasticware, chemicals, equipment and supplies used in scientific research and applied science and life science worldwide.
